Tired nerves with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can easily and quickly be altered by what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling in 48 hours after beginning to take Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in winter-time, the circulation often slows up, the kidneys are inactive, and even the heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to those vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn-out weakened nerves, it sharpens the falling appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by all dealers.

THE SEVEN STAGES.

Only a baby. Kissed and caressed, Gently held to a mother's breast.

Only a child. Toddling alone, Brightening now its happy home.

Only a boy. Trudging to school, Governed now by a sterner rule.

Only a youth. Living in dreams, Full of promise life now seems.

Only a man. Battling with life, Shared in now by a loving wife.

Only a father. Burdened with care, Silver threads in dark-brown hair.

Only a graybeard. Toddling again, Growing old and full of pain.

Only a mound. O'ergrown with grass, Dreams unrealized—rest at last.

Resolve to see the world on the sunny side, and you have almost won the battle of life at the outset.

How can a man say that a woman has nothing to do? In one year she gets dinner 365 times, washes the dishes 1,095 times, gets the children ready for school twelve a day for 180 days, puts the baby to sleep 1,460 times, makes about 300 calls; as she wishes for something she hasn't ever minute, she wishes 60 things an hour or 525,600 things in a year. Who says that a woman has nothing to do.

The girl who works—God bless her. She is brave and active. She is not too proud to earn her own living or ashamed to be caught at her daily task. She smiles at you from behind counter or desk. It is an honor to know this girl—to be worthy of her regard. Her hands may be stained by dish washing, sweeping, factory grease or printing ink, but it is an honest and helping hand. It stays misfortunes from names; it is our shield which protects many a forlorn little family from almshouse and the asylum.

THE HOME LIFE.

In the home life never forget that the children have social rights and the chief among these is the right to laugh when they are happy, to cry when they are unhappy, and to make a noise. A healthy child is always active. It must jump and scream, fall down, cry when it gets hurt, and jump up only to repeat the same thing. But to keep it still means unhappiness, and nearly, if not quite, death. Let them be gay. This is their element. We always class children, birds and flowers together. And why? Because they should be equally beautiful, innocent and happy. We should never rob childhood of its loveliness. Even old people should be gay, and happy and good; too good to overcloud the children's horizon with angry and lowering brows. Nor turn their merit to discord by continual fault-finding. Allow them all the freedom consistent with absolute safety. Let them play and be happy, but teach them self-control. God's estimate of self-control is this: "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he that ruleth his own spirit, than he that taketh a city." Condemn your children only when they are really wrong, and then as gently as possible, but be sure to commend them when they do right. A little praise with a child goes a long way. A child may be provoking but not wilfully bad. Attributing bad motives to a thoughtless child has ruined many a little life. Just blame less and praise more, and we shall have better children. Especially as most of their faults are copied from their parents, we should exercise the strictest charity, for verily "Charity doth cover a multitude of sins."

MARRIAGE IS A FAILURE.

When either of the parties marry for money.

When the lord of creation pays more for cigars than his better half does for hosiery, boots and bonnets.

When one of the parties engages is a business that is not approved by the other.

When both parties persist in arguing over a subject upon which they never have and never can think alike.

When neither husband nor wife takes a vacation.

When vacations are taken by one side of the house only.

When a man attempts to tell his wife what style of bonnet she must wear.

When a man's Christmas presents to his wife consist of bootjacks, shirts and gloves for himself.

When the watchword is: "Each for himself."

When dinner is not ready at dinner time.

When "he snores his loudest" while she kindles the fire.

When the father takes half of the pie and leaves the other half for the one that made it and her eight children.

When the children are given the neck and back of the chicken.

When the children are obliged to clamor for their rights.

When the money that should go for a book goes for what only one side of the house knows anything about.

When there is too much latchkey.

When politeness, fine manners, and kindly attention are reserved for company or visits abroad.

WHAT HOME SHOULD BE.

The home should be a place where man is always on his good behavior, our kindest words, our pleasantest smiles, and our most particular favors, should be kept to exchange with our own household. If we feel in the mood for performing some kind act, let it be done for the benefit of our dearest companion.

Our home should be so filled with pleasant smiles, loving words, and kind acts, that the moment a member enters it the sunshine of happiness will beam from every countenance and a thrill of joy fill every heart; in fact, the home should be to its members, the pleasure spot on earth. If cross words must be spoken let them be directed to strangers or better still go into the woods and direct them to the wild animals; but a still better way is to keep the mind so full of good thoughts, and the hands so busy in performing kind, Christian acts that there will be no room for cross words to mature, and no time or disposition to utter them. How can a true Christian speak a cross word to his wife? He cannot for harsh words to our best friends alienate us from God, destroy our true Christian principles and make us brutes.
